Ill at St. Mary's—Mrs. W. M. Wendt, of Baker City, is in St. Mary's hospital, suffering from an inflammatory disorder. She was taken sick Saturday, while visiting in this city.

Taken to Hospital—Mrs. R. Munson of Bayview, near Skamokawa, has been taken to St. Mary's hospital, suffering from catarrhal trouble. The attack was not severe and she is getting along well.

Discharged from Hospital—Mrs. P. Polonius, who has been confined to St. Mary's hospital for several weeks with nervous trouble, has been discharged from that institution in recovered health.

The F. N. Clark Co. have for sale three of the finest residence lots in Astoria, at prices about one-half of their real value. Any one contemplating building a home who wants a beautiful lot should consider these. We will sell one or two together.

Below Zero—That's where you will be if you don't check that cold and cure that cough with Hart's Compound Syrup Tar and Wild Cherry. Sure thing. At Hart's drug store, corner 14th and Commercial streets.

Visits Willamette Valley—The Eugene Daily Guard states that Mrs. W. S. Gilbert, wife of Rev. W. S. Gilbert of the Astorian First Presbyterian church, who has been visiting the Misses Nettle and Emma Chase in Eugene, left that city Monday for a trip to Junction to visit other friends.

Do you feel sleepy and not a bit like working in the afternoon? Perhaps it's because of the kind of lunch you're eating—too heavy and too hard to digest. Why not try the Palace restaurant on Commercial street, where all the baking is done in those famous slow-process ovens, which turn out light, appetizing wholesome things? You'll save money, too. If Orkowitz covers umbrellas.

Have the Grip—According to reports from Cornelius, Oregon, Senator and Mrs. W. T. Schofield are ill at that place with the grip. So far as is known the condition of neither is serious.

Buried Yesterday—The funeral of young Carl Mildaas occurred yesterday from Pohl's undertaking parlors, under the auspices of Rev. Franz Kankkonen. Interment followed at Greenwood cemetery.

Leave on Undine—J. A. Van Osdol and wife, with N. J. Van Osdol and wife, from the East, left out on the Undine last evening for a week's visit with J. D. Van Osdol, engineer at the Capital Ice works, at Salem.

Pioneer Dead—August Lund, a Skamokawa pioneer farmer aged 84 years, died at his residence Monday afternoon of disorders incident to old age. He leaves a widow, a daughter and five sons. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

$7,000 in Six Hours—This is the sum and the time it took North Bend to raise it, last Saturday, for advertising that city, and $3,000 more will be given this week. This is the style and spirit of doing things that build up cities. Astoria is on the eve of advertising herself. See?

Will End Soon—Our 20 per cent discount sale will positively end on the first of February. On account of the advance in the factory price on almost everything in our line, it will be impossible for us to continue our sale any longer than the advertised time. Chas. Heilborn & Company, Complete Housefurnishers.

Whatever You Do—Don't forget the card party to be given this evening by the Ladies of the Grand Army at Carman's hall. There will be a jolly good time for all, with prizes, four in number, and delicious coffee and cakes for the hungry, and a rattling good time. It only costs a trifle for a real good cause and an assuredly excellent time.

JOSEPH EMORY DIES AT GRESHAM

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS AT THE HOME OF HIS NEPHEW—HAD MANY FRIENDS HERE.

Joseph P. Emory died of pneumonia last Sunday at Gresham, aged 83 years. The deceased has been for many years a prominent citizen of the state, having been engaged in business for some time in Oakland, and afterwards occupying for twenty-four years the position of mail clerk on Columbia River steamboat lines. In both capacities he won the friendship and esteem of his associates, and the news of his sudden death will cause sincere regret to the many who had the privilege of his acquaintance.

Mr. Emory remained to the day of his death a bachelor, and the only relatives left to mourn his end are a sister in his far-away home town of Bangor, in Maine, and a nephew residing at Gresham, in whose care he was at the time of his decease, and who has charge of his final obsequies.

Mayor Wise is in receipt of a letter from Portland in regard to the funeral services, which says that although arrangements have not been definitely shaped as yet, it has been decided to hold the ceremony in Portland, with interment at Riverview cemetery. Astorians who desire to attend the last rites of the departed are requested to call at the St. Charles Hotel, at the corner of Front and Morrison streets, on Thursday morning, when accurate information will be given about the time and place of the services.

He Got a Telegram—He had not been married very long and was getting along happily, when the pleasant tenor of his life was warped by the receipt of a telegram from his warlike mother-in-law, announcing her arrival on a certain train. He met her dutifully, and carried her load of bundles up home, smiling, but vegeful, and she no sooner got there than she assumed entire command of the establishment, including himself. He bent every faculty to devising ways and means of ousting her and at last skillfully painted himself to a life-like image of a small-pox patient; goes to bed and the scheme works like a charm. For life-like details of the story, see the new moving-picture films, at the Waldorf.

Portland's Trouble—Home-coming Astorians yesterday gave some unpleasant details of the adverse conditions now besetting the metropolis. Her suburban streets and heights have borne the brunt of the icy visitation. Great masses of ice-encrusted wires have fallen for blocks at a time, along some of the thoroughfares and many streets are literally impassable and the mass and mess of fallen, tangled telephone poles and wires, is something fearful. The car system, telephone service, fire-wire service and many elements of public utility are at a standstill, but a mighty effort is being made to straighten things out, and it will be done without loss of time.

Is Critically Ill—Mrs. Walter Christensen, of Fort Columbia, who has been seriously ill for some time, will be brought to this city in a few days and placed in St. Mary's hospital, where an operation will be performed in the hope of saving her life. Her condition is regarded as very critical. Mrs. Christensen was nee Miss Anna C. Sabine, and formerly resided in this city, where she has many friends who are grieved to hear of her sickness.

On the Ways—There is much activity in the Leathers boat yards these days. The new screw steamer for the Pacific Transportation Company, 65 feet long, 16 feet wide and 7 feet deep, is well along and will be finished on contract time. Six of the ten big fishing boats for Nushagak, are finished and the other four framed up. The S. Schmidt launch is being generally overhauled, and other work is well in hand.

No News from Fox—Yesterday passed without any additional word from Sheriff Pomeroy as to the outcome of the extradition of Roy Fox, upon which errand he is now in Seattle. It is expected he will return on one of today's trains, accompanied by the prisoner he went after, and it is thought Fox's father and mother will accompany their son on the journey.

"THE PIXIES" TONIGHT.

Everything in Perfect Readiness and a Packed House Assured.

Final rehearsals of "The Pixies" were held at the Astoria theatre yesterday afternoon and evening, and the two hundred and fifty young people who take part showed themselves ready to entertain the large audience which is sure to greet them tonight. The pixies, brownies, and goblins, in their grotesque costumes are sure to create a furore on their every appearance, while the one hundred little girls dressed in pure white and glittering with sparkles, form a picture of sweet innocence never to be forgotten. Mrs. Chas. H. Callender, as Prince Florimel, and Miss Kathryn Shively, as Queen Titania, are especially good in their parts, as are also Gayle Roberts as the Duke, and Maude Ross as Angelica. Each of these young ladies will be heard in solos and duets. Emma Wootton, as Wun Lang, the Chinaman; Louise Abercrombie as the Italian minstrel; James Keating, as the monkey; Virgil Noland, as the goblin chief; Regford Jensen, as the cop; Iver Ross, as the Jew; Ed Laurin, as the Major; and Alf Hammarstrom as the Dutchman, are very well suited to their difficult parts. Naldyne Baker and Evadyn Jones, as the wee attendants of the Queen, and Valentine Welch, Irene Shultz, Frances McCormack and Maude Larson, as the butterflies, will be sure to win the hearts of all who see them.

The Amazon march and drill by twelve young ladies in natty military uniform, is a feature that always wins several recalls, as does also the Japanese drill by twelve young ladies, in rich oriental costuming.

It is a big comic opera, carefully staged and costumed, and given with all the dash and go of the best professional productions. Sale of seats is now on at the box office of the theatre, and the brisk demand for seats is an assurance that a packed house will greet the funny Pixies.

To The Records—But one deed was presented for filing at the county clerk's office yesterday, along with a volume of other matters destined for the public books; that of Samuel McClure and wife to the Bremner Logging Company, conveying all the timber on the NE 1-4 of Section 25, T. 7 N., R. 9 W., for a consideration of $1.

Sneak Thief's Work—A young lady, resident of Knappa, whose name is withheld from publication, while coming down on last night's train from Portland, was relieved of a purse containing about $18. The conductor was notified as soon as the loss was discovered, but no trace of the thief was discovered last night.

Here on Friday—F. Wonder, of Portland, will arrive in this city at noon on Friday next, with a fine and varied assortment of masquerade suits and paraphernalia, for the benefit of the hundreds who intend to attend the grand ball of the Sons of Hermann. He will be quartered at the Hotel Occident.

En Route Home—Word has been received here that Larry Sullivan is at present in Los Angeles, enjoying a rest cure after the arduous work and business of the past Nevada season, and that Peter Grant is en route to his Astoria home accompanied by Mrs. Grant.

With the Estates—Judge Trenchard yesterday made an order in probate fixing Monday, March 4, 1907, at 2 o'clock p. m., as the time for hearing the final account of the administrator of the estate of Charles Nyquist, deceased.

Special This Week—We are offering an exceptionally fine line of underwear this week for $2.25 the suit. If you need anything in the underwear line, take a look in our east window. P. A. Stokes.

On account of the Pixie show, Prof. Ringier will postpone his dancing class for one week, meeting next on February 6, at Logan Hall.

For a nice piece of silverware go to Frank J. Donnerberg's. He has them. 110 11th street.

PERSONAL MENTION.

N. P. Sorenson is down from Portland on business connected with his various interests in and about this city. Collector of Customs C. W. Carnahan, who has been ill with the grip, is now on the high road to recovery.

ALLEN-FREDERICKSON NUPTIAL.
Quiet, But Happy, Event in This City Yesterday Interests Many.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Frederickson, in this city, Rev. Father John Waters, of St. Mary's Catholic church, performed the solemn and beautiful wedding service of that faith in the uniting of the lives of Miss Maja Frederickson and Mr. John T. Allen; Miss Grace Stokes serving the dainty bride as maid and Mr. A. V. Allen, Jr., supporting his brother as groom. Only the respective families and a few intimate friends of the happy young people were present at the wedding.

Later in the afternoon a reception was held in the parlors of the Allen home, at the corner of Eleventh and Grand Avenue, where the newly married pair were recipients of a perfect deluge of congratulatory wishes from ardent and long-tried friends and devoted kinsfolk. Scores were present at the big function and the bride and groom were blessed with the knowledge of the real pleasure their union afforded their friends when they at last departed for the evening express that was to take them away on their honeymoon trip. They will not be gone long, and when they return they will at once enter their handsome little home, just finished and costly equipped, on Ninth street near Grand Avenue.

Survey for Extension—It is believed that the extension of the A. & C. R. line south from Seaside will be carried along the coast. This would necessitate the cutting of a tunnel through Tillamook head. The proposed route is being examined by surveying parties.

POACHERS CAUSE ALARM.

MADRID, Jan. 29.—A report that three men who had been acting suspiciously had exchanged shots with the keepers of the Royal estate at Caso de Campo while the queen and the Queen mother were driving there Sunday afternoon, caused some alarm. Later it developed that the men were poachers. They are in custody.
